MacKenzie Highland Ranch is a small family-run guest ranch specializing in independent living. Our rates are reasonable, and our location is ideal! You can set your own schedule and do what you want to do when you want to do it. Sleep in, ride the trails, view the scenery, ski, fish, hunt, visit the nearby national parks, or just relax and do nothing.

Our ranch is just outside the town of Dubois, Wyoming, where you can find great restaurants and shopping, and the sidewalks are still made of wood. The ranch is surrounded by the Shoshone National Forest, and offers you the best in scenery and outdoor activity.

The ranch is also an excellent location for your family reunion or a retreat, and we will be happy to assist in making arrangements for your special group activities.
